ADDITIONS TO PROPOSAL FOR THE CONSTRUCTION OF CERTAIN BUILDINGS ON THE INSANE ASYLUM GROUNDS, HONOLULU, T. H.

At the urgent request of various general Contractors, the Superintendent of Public Works will consider (in addition to the segregated proposals heretofore called for) blanket bids or proposals, for the entire completion of work set forth in sections 1 and 2, and in sections 3 and 4 of the plans and specifications for the above mentioned buildings. Sections 5 and 6 were not included in these blanket proposals inasmuch as the bids would be very liable to exceed the unexpended portion of the appropriation (approximately $63,000) made for this work.

An additional sheet to accompany the segregated proposal heretofore called for has been gotten out and copies are on file at the office of the Assistant Superintendent of Public Works, and will be furnished intending bidders when called for.

The Superintendent of Public Works reserves the right to accept or reject any or all bids.

Superintendent of Public Works.

TAKING THEIR HOME TO THEM

That the element of romance has not entirely departed from the life of the missionary dwelling at some lonely outpost in the great Pacific, even since the cannibals have ceased to regard baked missionary as a delicacy, is evidenced by the cargo of the missionary schooner Carrie and Annie. Upon the deck of this staunch little craft is piled the materials for the construction of an entire house from the ridge pole to the underpinning. It seems that a young German by the name of Jagenow has taken up missionary work under the auspices of the American Board at Ponape. Feeling the need of a helpmeet in his work he is about to be married and the thoughtful board, appreciating the difficulties of married life without a house, have furnished that necessity and the new missionary home is on its way across the broad Pacific in sections.

The Carrie and Annie set sail from San Francisco for Ponape on the second of August, having made a fine passage down with light winds and cloudy skies. It was not the intention of the captain to call at this port on the way but a few days ago he found his water casks leaking and fuel rather short so he concluded that it would be best to put into Honolulu for fresh supplies. Captain Ekrem was forced to put into this port on the way up last April as the schooner ran into a storm and emerged from it pretty much a wreck. She was in port until May 25th when she sailed for San Francisco. While she was here Sorenson & Lyle, the shipwrights, almost rebuilt her and Cashman & Nelson made her a new set of canvas. Captain Ekrem is loud in his praise of Honolulu's facilities for repairing ships and declares that the foresail made for him here sets better than any he has had in his thirty years' experience on deep seas.

The schooner, which hails from the good old town of brains and beans, is a well found craft although she is rather a diminutive vessel for the long voyages that she takes. Captain Ekrem has his wife with him on the trip and she is enjoying the voyage although there is little room to move about in the vessel. Besides the house for the bride down in the South Seas the Carrie and Annie carries a full cargo of general supplies for the mission stations in Micronesia. She will probably get away for Ponape this noon and ought to make the passage, if she encounters fair weather, in about thirty days.

SIERRA TOOK BIG CROWD TO 'FRISCO

The Oceanic liner Sierra took one of the largest crowds she has handled from the Colonies and Honolulu to San Francisco when she sailed yesterday morning. When she arrived from Sydney and Auckland she had a big load and her Honolulu passengers swelled the crowd although they were not so numerous as they have been on some of the other steamers lately. The band was at the wharf as usual and there were many leis. The ship was a few minutes late in getting away from the dock owing to the fact that after the gangway had been hauled in the steamer had to wait for the tug which was engaged in swinging the Coptic from her anchorage into the stream. Loud cheers went up from the crowd on ship and dock when, as the gangway was about to fall, two men rushed up the tottering plank and handed letters to the quartermaster.

Among the passengers from Honolulu was Miss Terry, daughter of Admiral Terry. She is to make a short visit in San Francisco returning late in September. When the Admiral is relieved late in the year the Terrys will take a tour around the world.

J. S. Ross, passenger agent of the Oceanic and Santa Fe companies was a passenger. He is accompanied by Mrs. Ross.

Charles S. Hall, K. R. G. Wallace and T. R. King of Honolulu Commandry were passengers. They are delegates to the convocate at San Francisco.

W. G. Cooper, cashier of the First National Bank went to San Francisco and the East on business and to attend a bankers' conference.

Mrs. W. H. Cornwell of Maui is on a trip to California.

Rev. W. D. Westervelt left for a visit on the mainland.

Ernest Clarke, formerly with the Bank of Hawaii, left with his family for California where he will engage in business.

Manuka Due Today.

The Canadian-Australian steamer Manuka should be in early this morning from Sydney, Brisbane and Suva. From reports received from the Colonies on the Sierra the year has been a most prosperous one for the "All Red Route." The Manuka was full on her trip up in May and there is a big crowd coming this trip. A large number of these are people returning to England who will visit the resorts along the Canadian Pacific line. The cargo of the Manuka consists of wood, oil, preserved meats and salt, a new export. There is also a shipment of 500 tons of sugar from Fiji.

SIERRA MAY RACE COPTIC

Two of the crack liners of the Pacific, one flying the stars and stripes and the other the meteor flag of England, got away for San Francisco yesterday morning within a few minutes of each other. There is much speculation among waterfront people as to whether there will be a race. Some bets have been placed as to which will arrive at San Francisco first. The Sierra has many staunch supporters but she is comparatively untried in the speed line for she had had no occasion to make fast runs and it is the policy of the company to allow no racing. The Coptic, on the other hand, has a record, and there are many who are willing to back her. While no definite record could be obtained last night it is said that she has made the trip in five days and eight hours without special effort. The postoffice records, while they only show the time taken in transporting the mails from one postoffice to the other and do not give an accurate record of the exact time of passage, do tell of some remarkable performances. On one occasion the Coptic was due from Yokohama on a Tuesday and appeared off port on the evening of the Sunday previous. During the same year, in 1897, she almost equaled this performance by arriving at 7 a. m. Monday when due on Tuesday and again arrived at 9 a. m.

On August 14, 1897, she got in from San Francisco at 4 p. m. on the day before due. Aug. 8, at 1:15 p. m. when due on the 9th and when due on November 25th she arrived at 9:30 p. m. on the 24th. These records seem to substantiate the claim of the Coptic as a speedy boat and postal officials would not be surprised if she made port before the Sierra. The mail was dispatched on the latter boat and there are many who are confident that the American boat will win out. However, there may not be any race after all.

THEY ALL GOT A GOOD BATH

The Occidental and Oriental liner Coptic got away for San Francisco at ten o'clock yesterday morning. She was to have sailed at nine but the transportation of her San Francisco steerage from the Quarantine Island was a long job and it was nearly ten before she began to hoist anchor. The Asiatic steamer for San Francisco numbered about fifty and they were given a good antiseptic bath last night. From appearances it was the first bath that some of them had indulged in since the flood but after it was all over they were ready to resume their journey. Meanwhile men had been busy with sulphur on the fumigation of the steerage quarters on the vessel and by nine o'clock she was pronounced ready for departure although when she left she was still flying the yellow flag at her fore masthead and the officials at San Francisco are likely to be a little more careful than usual in their examination. The Coptic took two lay-over passengers from this port. They were Dr. Fahnestock and E. Pugh.

Shipping Notes.

The Fort George is to load her sugar here instead of going to Hilo.

The Oceanic liners have cut out Fanning island and arrive here in the evening now, staying over night.

The sugar cargo of the S. S. Alaskan, which arrived at Delaware Breakwater Sunday grew in value $29,120 during her delay in reaching port. It is valued now at $307,120.

The Korea, which sailed on her outward voyage ten days late is making up time lost and will arrive here on September 3, only three days behind her former schedule.

Stewart Burningham, for several years in the Wilder S. S. Co's employ and at present pursuer of the Likeliest will go to England on the Manuka for a vacation. His mother is coming on the boat and will accompany him. He will be gone about four months.

Few explorers have gained great wealth; most of them have either forfeited life in the pursuit of their ambitious projects or been satisfied with small pensions. Sir Henry Stanley was an exception. He left an estate of more than $750,000 amassed largely from the sale of his books. Livingston's fortune did not amount to a tenth of this. Du Chailu passed away almost penniless. No explorer before Stanley found exploring a paying vocation.
